Citrus Theatre Arts Department Presents

One Final Beautiful Impossible Year

Written by Nick Dillenburg, loosely based on William Shakespeare's
"Love's Labour's Lost"

Directed by Aubrey Saverino

Director's Note

One Final Beautiful Impossible Year has been a labor of love for this program. It was born out of a desire to create a show specifically for Citrus College students—one that feels current and relevant to their lives and experiences, while offering as many people as possible the chance to participate.

In a conversation with my friend and artistic collaborator, Nick Dillenburg, I shared my struggle to find a large-cast play that felt right for our students. He expressed interest in writing a piece just for them. Nick, a professional actor currently starring in the Broadway National Tour of Harry Potter and the Cursed Child, has an impressive background, including performances on Broadway alongside Ewan McGregor, a recent film with Scarlett Johansson, and as a series regular on Orange is the New Black. Working with a professional of his caliber presents an incredible opportunity for our students to create a world premiere play right here at Citrus College.

So, we got to work! Nick flew out to Citrus during breaks from his national tour. Together, we workshopped and rehearsed the play with our students, incorporating their thoughts and experiences into the text. Loosely inspired by Shakespeare's Love's Labor's Lost, One Final Beautiful Impossible Year follows four best friends through their senior year at an all-girls high school. They swear an oath to remain single and focus on their studies, striving to become better individuals. However, complications arise when they are forced to collaborate with the all-boys school. Will misunderstandings, budding romances, real-world challenges, and the complexities of life derail their efforts and friendship?

As we follow these friends through their senior year, we also have the opportunity to collaborate and showcase the work of other departments on campus, including Dance, Music, and Art. The mural you'll see is painted by our very own Citrus College art students. Our full-time dance instructor, Renee Liskey, served as our choreographer, and we have Citrus Singers involved—one as a performer and another as our Music Director—not to mention the invaluable contributions from our Theater Tech program under the guidance of our full-time faculty, Joe Holbrook and Dan Volonte.

I am filled with gratitude for everyone who contributed to this production, and for the support of our dean, Amberly Chamberlain, and the college. Creating a world premiere at Citrus, alongside our students and all these talented artists, is a gift—one that I hope continues beyond our production, allowing us to proudly say it all started at Citrus.
